

1. All coaching, training, and certifications facilitated by Kimberly Jones or Living On Purpose are done under the umbrella of “coaching” and not as a licensed clinician or counselor. No training offered by Living On Purpose should be misconstrued as such. Clients are not promised that they will have a guaranteed specific amount of success, progress, or financial gain. Each client/customer has a different approach to the services provided, therefore results will vary accordingly. Any progress or success is totally dependent upon the engagement, follow-through, and discipline of each client.

2. Kimberly Jones & Living On Purpose does not guarantee its participants acquisition of clients, business opportunities, or partnerships as a result of enrollment in any of the coaching programs or as a result of participation as a speaker or facilitator.

The original WEWIN logo file is in the drop box link along with the video and additional pics that may be used....if they appropriately align with the project.

As far as additional text is concerned....I am fine with the submissions I made already. I don't have any additional updates.
